Underworld: Evolution: Original Motion Picture Soundtrack, the soundtrack of the movie Underworld: Evolution, was launching on January 10, 2006. The contrience of its predecessor, none of the included moms were written especially for the project (except for Dead by Sunrise's Morning after track, which was specifically remixed for the soundtrack), although many of the tracks have been exclusive to the soundtrack. The original plans to include the Adema "Shoot the Arrows" assignment of their third planets were broken when vocalist Luke Caracioli left the band quoting "personal diversities".
